“The Very Hungry Caterpillar” (story by Eric Carle)

In the light of the moon a little egg lay on a leaf.

One Sunday morning the warm sun came up and – Pop! Out of the egg came a tiny and very hungry caterpillar.

He started to look for some food.

On Monday, he ate through one apple. But he was still very hungry.

On Tuesday, he ate through two pears, but he was still very hungry.

On Wednesday he ate through three plums, but he was still very hungry.

On Thursday, he ate through four Strawberries, but he was still very hungry.

On Friday, he ate through 5 oranges, but he was still very hungry.

One Saturday he ate through one piece of chocolate cake, one ice cream cone, one pickle, one slice of Swiss Cheese, one slice of Salami, one lollipop, one piece of cherry pie, one sausage, one cupcake and one slice of watermelon. That night he has a STOMACH ACHE!

The next day was Sunday again. The caterpillar ate through one nice green leaf and after that he felt much better.

Now he wasn't hungry anymore and he wasn't little anymore. He was a BIG FAT caterpillar.

He built himself a small house called a cocoon, around himself. He stayed inside for more than two weeks. Then he nibbled a hole in his cocoon, pushed his way out and.....

He was a Beautiful Butterfly!
